PRESS RELEASE

Modus Operandi Receives Industry Appreciation Award by the Economic Development Commission

MELBOURNE, Florida, September 29, 2005 – Modus Operandi, a leading software and information integration technology company, has received an Industry Appreciation Award by the Economic Development Commission of Florida's Space Coast. Industry Appreciation Week, usually the third week of each September, is dedicated by the Office of Governor Jeb Bush to acknowledge the contributions of Florida's industry. Modus Operandi was nominated in the Information Technology (IT) category along with 28 other local manufacturing and high-tech companies recognized for creating more than 1,800 jobs.

Says Modus Operandi President and CEO, Peter Dyson, "We are thrilled to have been selected as the overall winner in the information technology category from among the many superb IT companies on Florida's Space Coast. We have been blessed with loyal, forward-thinking customers and outstanding employees. It is their dedication that is the key to our success."
